Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

—V—

I wish to commend a recent editorial in the Press-Scimetar, the tenor of which was that young men bound for the armed forces should marry, if they are in love, and leave good strong seed behind them whether they return or not. If the American nation is to be perpetuated by the misfits, the crippled, diseased and morons who are not fit for military service, God help America.

If America is to continue to be a strong, virile nation, the next generation must be sired by the strong, healthy and alert young men suitable for military service, not by the young men who are too sorry, either mentally or physically to be used in service.

Congratulations to Bobby Weir who has passed all examinations, mental and physical, necessary for him to enter the Naval Academy at Annapolis. The young fellow was too modest to permit us to use his picture in the G.W. Best wishes, Bobbie, may you soon be an admiral. He is a full fledged midshipman now.

The negroes of Grenada certainly set a good example to their white neighbors in Grenada today when they gave each colored selectee 25 in all — who were leaving for Shelby a box lunch and a package of cigarettes, as well as a hearty send-off. Some groups of white youths have left Grenada with less excitement than a similar number bound for Parchman would have created. I am as much to blame as any other white person. Let's do better in the future.

We are in receipt of a copy of the Kraftville Weekly Blitzkrieg, a weekly edited at Camp McCain, a weekly by Brother Seay at Winona. What Bro Seay can get out of it, other than a lot of hard work, is more than we can see. ONE paper is enough these hot days.

We are sorry to hear that Sam Mitchell has been running a temperature ever since he got back to Clarksdale from his vacation in Alabama and Grenada. Maybe that Alabama corn does not agree with Sam since he has become accustomed to that government licker in the Delta etropolis.

Claud Perry, we are sorry to report, is not getting on so well. He has been under the weather for a good many weeks.

If the newspaper business does not get better I guess I will be forced to do preaching. Preachers certainly have it soft.

Cliff Johnson, the new power trust manager, honored our office with a call Wednesday. He did not want anything or, if he did, he did not make his wants known.

The soldiers who inhabit Camp McCain had better pray every night that there is no high wind or snow, otherwise the shacks will collapse on their heads.

Dear Allen: somebody must be stealing your copies. We send them every week. I mailed the missing copies. You are hitting the bull's eye every pop.

Sometime ago Congressman A. L. Ford wrote the living brother of a deceased veteran his sympathy. A few days ago, Ford wrote the deceased veteran a letter outlining the many fine things he (Ford) has been doing for the veterans. In our opinion, Ford had better revise his mailing list.

The enemy will never have a chance to destroy the barracks at Camp McCain. The termites will get them first.

We understand the owner of the jack barn has left town. It would now be in order to tear down that hideous monstrosity that would be a disgrace to the Main Street of even Winona. We understand the moon players are going to take over.

Miss Fanny Lee Parker, who paid her subscription Wednesday, was very much disappointed that she did not meet Miss Spill de Beans, our ex-society editor. The old lady fired her the first thing when she got home last Friday.

I am scared Horn and Greenfield are going to get into devilment over the week-end as, at this writing, there is not enough job work "on the hook" to keep them busy. Help, help, help

Grenada county will poll the lightest vote in many years an August 25th when the "old faces" will be erased from the political scene.

Kirk is headed straight to Hell as he has started playing Moon.

The Commercial Appeal certainly did have a funny looking American flag on July 4—eleven stripes on the part nearest the flagstaff and thirteen stripes on the outer edge.

Camp McCain---The Termites' Paradise

W. W. Whitaker

I do not believe a conscientious member of the Army Engineers organization or, conscientious member of the engineer - architect firm of Chas. T. Main, a conscientious carpenter, or the building contractor himself will deny the statement heretomade that the barracks and most of the other frame structures being erected at Camp McCain are sorrier both in material and workmanship (and design) than anything that the United States government ever paid for.

I attribute this sorry construction to the financial limits placed upon the project. I imagine that the War Department told the architect - engineers, The Chas. T. Main Company something like: "Boys, we have so much million to spend in building a cantonment Grenada. You must design a town, complete with water, sewers, roads, bridges, office buildings, quarters for the soldiers, and other necessary buildings to care for a Triangular Division BUT YOU MUST PAY CARPENTERS ONE DOLLAR AN HOUR, COMMON LABOR FORTY CENTS AN HOUR AND OTHERS IN PROPORTION. Make us the best something for the money that you can". "Something" is the right word, though "nothing" might be a better word at that. Hedged about by these stringent limitations, it is my opinion that Chas. T. Main did the best it could with the money available. I feel that every real engineer who looks at one of these barracks shudders as if he had a hard chill. I feel that a real carpenter would have a similar reaction.

The roads are good and, when finished, will last almost indefinitely. The bridges are well built and well designed and should last, with little maintenance, for 2030 years. The storm sewers and the sanitary sewers and the sewage disposal plants should last as long as the Pyramids in Egypt. The wards in the hospital area are fairly well built and should last five or six years. The spur tracks are well laid out and are of permanent construction. BUT the barracks, where the soldiers have to make their homes, will last until the first heavy wind (not cyclone or a tornado) comes, or until a four inch snow falls. If it should so happen that this area experiences no heavy wind or snow within three years, the termites will have eaten the barracks by that time.

I venture the assertion that, when I lived in the country, I could have taken my field hands (without selection) and could have built BETTER barracks for ONE THIRD the cost of the one now being built.

I am willing to grant, to avoid any argument, that there are many CARPENTERS on the job; but I make the categorical statement that no real carpenters are needed there. All that are needed there are nail-drivers and 2x4 fixers. Whole sections of walls are nailed together near the point where lumber is unloaded from the freight cars. So are the roof trusses (shudder!! shudder!!). These, prefabricated units are hauled to the site of the barracks, unloaded and nailed together.

I venture the assertion that, six months ago, the War Department would not have used the material, now being used in building the barracks, for kindling wood. Simon Legree built a better cabin for poor old Uncle Tom than Uncle Sam is building for his soldiers scheduled to be stationed near Grenada. I have never in my entire life seen such sorry con-

MRS. ALEXANDER HONORED BY STATE W. P. A. DIRECTOR

On Monday of this week, Mrs. H. A. Alexander received the appointment of County Chairman of Municipal Soldier Recreation for Grenada.

This appointment was made by Mr. Gatliss, State W. P. A. Administrator, and aside from the honor, the position pays a nice salary. Congratulations are in order.

Citizens Of Grenada And Grenada County

Hardly a day passes that some one asks, when there will be another Citizens Meeting for the Law Enforcement program.

Have just been advised that on account of Harry Burkley resigning, as well as C. A. Perry being at home sick, advantage was taken of this fact and the permit to permit Pin Ball Machines to operate in the City of Grenada, and over the protest of our Mayor, Mr. Rogers Burt, Mr. L. D. Boone and Mr. J. B. Horn, voted to permit the operation of Pin Ball Machines in the City.

There was meetings around the City insisting that the City employ a Police Judge; these same Citizens had better get together and see the proper party is employed as there will be numerous applications.

Our Mayor needs some encouragement from the Citizens, as our Board of Aldermen is all split, resigned and sick.

I will issue a call meeting at the time the Officers of the Organization think best, and will notify all, being much over a hundred, who signed the pledge to support this organization.

Unless the Citizens of the City and County come out in the open, take a stand, name names, your City and County is gone. There were about twenty or more in the jail Saturday night.

The District Attorney told this group of Citizens that if six Citizens would sign a petition for the removal of any officer not doing his duty, he would see that they were removed. I only need one more voluntary name.

Don't expect the Chairman, the Vice Chairman or the Secretary to do the whole job, they can't without the full cooperation of the Citizens.

Respectfully,

LAW ENFORCEMENT ORGANIZATION
H. J. RAY, Secretary

Letters From Men In The Armed Service

Dear Mr. Whitaker:

I should have written you this letter long ago but as I have not been in any one place long enough to worry about I have delayed it until now.

I have not been at Camp San Luis Obispo since last December. When war was declared we went to San Diego to set up the defense out posts of that area. We lived and had our Headquarters at the famous Del Mar race track at Del Mar.

After this we went to Fort Lewis, Washington, for a rest and training period and now we are at the Presidio of San Francisco.

I would like for you to mail my Grenada County Weekly to me at my new address.

You will notice that I have had a couple of promotions during this time.

The C-W is my only means of keeping up with the people I know in Grenada when I was there. I especially like to learn about the other boys in the army.

I hope that Grenada will be kind to the boys who comes to occupy the Camp there as I have known some towns that weren't so friendly.

Sincerely,
Ralph Milsbaugh, Jr.

EDITORS NOTE: Congratulations, sarge.

Mrs. W. B. Simpson Died In Holcomb Wednesday

Mrs. Helen Thompson Simpson, wife of Mr. W. B. Simpson, of Holcomb, died in the home in Holcomb Wednesday, July 15th 1942, after a long illness.

Mrs. Simpson was a native of Tuscumbia, Alabama and married Mr. Simpson in October, 1891. Almost since the establishment of the town of Holcomb, the Simpsons have been residents there, where her husband has continuously been agent for the Y. & M. V. R. R. Mrs. Simpson devoted her time and attention to the care of her home and husband and the rearing of her children. She was noted for her indomitable energy. She was a life-long member of the Baptist Church.

As we go to press funeral services are being held in the church at Holcomb where Rev. J. W. Bailey is in charge. Burial will be held at Woodlawn Cemetery in Grenada.

Surviving her are her husband; the following children: Miss Estell Simpson of Jackson, W. F. Simpson, of Batheville, Ark., J. H. Simpson, of Holcomb, B. L. Simpson, of Mobile, D. Simpson, of Flora, M. C. Simpson, of Flora and W. B. Simpson, Jr., of Durant. Twelve grandchildren also survive.

Pallbearers are her neighbors, Messrs. Arthur Williams, H. Hall, H. S. Norris, Ed Holcomb, Volney Nason, Fulton McRee, H. K. McMahan, Bates Curry, Craize Mullin and Dr. A. S. Hill.

Sympathy is extended to the bereaved members of the family.

Mr. Silas Neal, 86, Passed Away

By Gore Strings Correspondent

On July 6th, Mr. Silas Neal passed away in a Jackson hospital after several months' illness. Mr. Neal was 86 years old, and a lifelong resident of Grenada county. His home was in the Providence community, where he had es many friends. He was a member of the Baptist church and was a true Christian. He was buried at Providence on Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. Mr. Spikes, pastor of Providence church and Rev. J. B. Middleton, of Sardis, had charge of the funeral with Mrs. R. H. Herring at the piano.

Mr. Neal leaves to mourn his passing his widow, Mrs. Dora (Chaltman) Neal, two sons, Mr. Lewis Neal, of California; Mr. Jim Neal, of Grenada; one daughter, Miss Annie Mae Neal, of Grenada, two brothers, Mr. Earskin Neal, Bellfountaine, and Mr. John Neal Grenada, Rt. 5.

To the bereaved ones we extend our sympathy.

My cotton acreage was 27.2 acres a week or so ago when it was comparatively cool. I guess it must be about 29.5 acres today with the mercury standing at 110. If a man could buy land according to the old government surveys and sell it according to the AAA measurements, he could get rich. I have the expandingest and contract ingest acres in Grenada county.

Mr. Henry Ray, President of Trust and Banking Co., spoke briefly, saying, "gentlemen, HERE IS the USO organization, where is the WPA?"

That leading citizens have accepted membership and chairmanship responsibility, without even a thought of salary, shows that their interest is purely unselfish.

THURSDAY, JULY 16, 1942

The County Agent

If Grenada County is to have a county agent, J. L. Cooley suits me as well as any that could be had, but it is my considered opinion that Grenada County does not need a county agent at the present time.

In 1928, I took my seat as a member of the board of supervisors, and I believe that I was more responsible for getting rid of the county agent's office and the individual who occupied it, than any other member of the board. I believe that.

After the cancellation of the AAA program, I used the influence of the press to bring about the reinstatement of the office of county agent for the very obvious reason that Grenada County HAD to have somebody to represent the federal government in administering a program in this county, or else forfeit all the money that was to be paid for our farmers to get cooperation. Winona, Carrollton, or somewhere else, I don't remember, was the only county in the district without a county agent in 1942. I was primarily responsible for the appointment of the office in 1928. I was responsible for securing the office in 1933 or 1934.

The change in the personnel of the county agent's office during the past few years has been nothing short of miraculous. Since the recreation of the office of Administrative Assistant, I believe he has successfully been in charge of all dealings between the AAA and the farmer, leaving the county agent to do little or anything, in 1928. Apparently he has nothing whatever to do with the AAA program.

The present national emergency has placed extraordinary expenses upon the county treasury. The latest was the very vital Health Program, costing about $7,500.00. Other expenses unknown in 1928 have to be met and God only knows what additional expenses the county will be called upon to meet in the immediate future. The county has lost from its tax rolls at least 20,000 of its most fertile acres to the army camps. It is practically certain that it will lose about 6,000 to an air base and it faces the loss of many thousands of acres for use as the reservoir above the dam. These losses of valuation unless some means can be devised to REDUCE expenses will mean that FEWER acres must bear the SAME expense. Simple arithmetic will show anyone that such would result in HIGHER taxes on EVERY acre remaining on the tax rolls.

It seems to me that the expense which could be dispensed with, with least harm to the public generally would be the elimination of the expense of a county agent.

I would not go as far as some do in saying that the county agent turns too pets upon whom he devotes ALL his attention. He will never come to see me. I expect the trouble with the matter is that he, like you and I, is governed by his job (position) and that he does not feel free, if he did, as I understand the entire situation, the county agent does NOT enjoy any priority in rites and rituals when he called home, if called.

This all would be something to think about these hot days when we are worrying about how taxes are to be met.

What's What And Why?

Paid advertisements as follows, were carried in the Grenada Review a number of times in June:

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC: The possession of PIN BALL MACHINES, SLOT MACHINES, and other gambling devices is illegal without exception, we are asking the court to impose jail sentences upon those convicted of possessing those machines, as well as those found guilty of the sale or possession of intoxicating liquors. (Signed) T. T. HAYWARD, Sheriff. Marshall Perry, County Attorney.

In a signed statement appearing in this issue, a very responsible citizen, Mr. H. J. Ray, states over his signature that three aldermen, (whom he named) out of the four present, and over the protest of the Mayor, voted to permit the operation of PIN BALL machines.

It is axiomatic that the City of Grenada is in the County of Grenada and just as much a part thereof as are Mr. Nehemiah Kirkman and that both the City and the County are parts of the State of Mississippi. It is well known that these machines are illegal in the State of Mississippi.

How in the name of Pete, if you will pardon the expression, can the City of Grenada legalize something that (these) is declared to be illegal by the sovereign State of Mississippi, and second which the High Sheriff of the County has openly declared against?

This is simply a legal point I bring up. Personally I do not think there is any more harm in pin ball machines than many other things openly countenanced by our people, are more harmful.

Funny Paper War

Almost every day we receive from the branch of the Treasury Department, which handles sale of war bonds, a bunch of cuts and pictures to be reproduced in this newspaper, all designed to arouse the infantile (?) minds of our people to the necessity of backing up this nation with loaned money.

Right now we are looking at a representative bunch of this material. One series of pictures is captioned "Comics—Limericks—Editorial Cartoons."

Have our people become so puerile that that they must be aroused to action by the "funnies"

Why-the-hell doesn't the government come out with this bold true statement—"Unless you birds buy bonds and in other ways give wholehearted support to the war effort, you will be enslaved like the rest of the conquered countries"? Why square-out the truth with "Liberty Limericks," what Nancy and Scorchy Smith say, and with dodads which the fecund mind of the cartoonists can rig up.

Tell the TRUTH about the situation, and the American people will respond.

Smear Campaign

We hear from the political stump speaker, and over the radio that "the newspapers are conducting a smear campaign against members of Congress and the Senate.

When did telling the truth constitute a "smear campaign," may we humbly ask?

Congress has no right to whine about the record that its own members made. Congress did pass the self-pensioning bill in about 3 days, and required about 40 days to pass the bill increasing the pay of the soldiers.

Congress IS keeping many of the vital matters (price control, support of the agricultural department and induction of the best available material—young men from 18 to 20 years of age) in a state of suspended animation until after the November elections.

Many Congressmen and Senators (including, I believe, most of ours here in Mississippi) did get for their own use the X cards which will permit the unlimited use of gasoline.

Congress did let this country get into such a hellacious mess that the heretofore despised Japanese pushed our forces about like an old fashioned tumble bug pushed about his sphere of manure. Yet, this self same Congress did permit enough money to be wasted on WPA, PWA, FSA, FERA, ABC, XYZ, ETC, which, if used for purposes of preparedness would make this country absolutely impregnable.

By its sins of omission and commission, Congress has brought this natiton and its associates in the Allied camp to the very brink of disaster.

In our opinion, the newspapers of the nation have not smeared Congressmen and Senators enough.

Personally, I would not vote to reelect one of them on a bet. I would rather vote for somebody in Whitfield.

Look At Your Assessments

In a legal notice published elsewhere in this issue, the Board of Supervisors advises the taxpayers of Grenada County that the equalization of the tax rolls of the county has been completed, and urged that each taxpayer look at HIS OWN assessment so that, if the taxpayer is dissatisfied with the assessment, he may come before the board in August and make his complaint. The notice informs the taxpayers that, after the August meeting, the valuations are FINAL; in other words, "kick in August or forever hold your peace."

I have served on the board of supervisors and I know that the average taxpayer absolutely disregards this annual notice, and makes no protest about any increase in valuation until he goes to the Sheriff to pay his taxes in January. The board, it is true, oftentimes sees that it has made a mistake and will correct the assessment, either by authorizing the sheriff to make a reduction or, if the taxes have been paid, authorize the refund of the COUNTY'S part of the taxes. It has no power to refund the State's part.

As a matter of fact the board would be perfectly right in sticking to its notice, "kick in August or forever hold your peace," but it seldom does this, as it usually takes the position that it is never too late to correct an error.

How much better it would be for the taxpayer to drop into the office at the court house during July and look at HIS OWN assessment and, if dissatisfied, request an adjustment in August; and, if an adjustment IS made, save the State's part of the taxes!!

Wise County Financing

The county board, its clerk and its attorney are to be heartily commended upon a recent move to refund $60,000 in bonds due in 1943 and 1944, and bearing 6 percent interest, upon a 2.65 basis, thus saving the taxpayers about $3,000.00 in a period of two years.

$30,000 worth of these bonds are so-called Beats 1, 2, 3 and 4 bonds, while $30,000 are Beat One bonds.

It is a pity that the State of Mississippi and the United States government could not have the benefit of the financial acumen of our county's official family consisting of the five supervisors, the clerk of the board and the attorney.

No Latrine Gossip

The quoted item below is not latrine gossip. On the contrary it comes right from the feed trough. It is from Jimmie Arrington's Collins Commercial, the official organ of Hon. Mike Conner. The item follows:

"Several keep on asking us if Mike Conner is going to run for governor next summer. He ain't waiting for next summer, he is running now.

War Is Violence!

By HERBERT B. ALLEN

The English speaking nations have two great assets in their world-wide defense of their capitalistic, semi-democratic society; and two great liabilities which are weighting them down at present.

Our first asset is a truly marvelous industrial machine, capable of ultimately producing instruments of destruction in such vast quantities that we shall eventually win in spite of our incompetent political leadership and our non-fighting generals and admirals.

Our first liabity is the age and feebleness of our political leadership under Franklin D. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill. Weary with their struggles in the halls of toils of politics, neither of these statesmen possesses the energy, temperament or qualifications for directing military and naval policy and strategy.

Our second liability is the age, inexperience, and lack of military and naval competence among many of the ranking generals and admirals in the English speaking forces.

When I was a boy, we had a remarkable hero in the Royal Navy. His official title was Admiral Lord Fisher, but to us he was very affectionately known as "Jackie" Fisher. Admiral Fisher was a thorn in the side af the dull, routine minded admirals of the Royal Navy, just as General MacArthur was a thorn in the side of the dull, run of mine generals when he was Chief-of-Staff of the U. S. Army.

Admiral Fisher was a lively, aggressive, active minded, belligerant sea dog of the type that made the Royal Navy the most feared force on water; and he gave a very blunt definition of war which should be framed and placed where it would daily meet the eyes of every person responsible for our war effort.

In the vague hope that that Admiral Fisher's short and powerful definition of war may through some remote channel reach the peaceful eyes of General George C. Marshall, our Chief-of-Staff, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, our Commander-in-Chief, it is quoted in the following twelve words: "War is the essence of violence; and moderation in war is imbecility!"

These are stern words for gentlemen whose conception of war appears to end with planning great camps and flying fields, with placing the entire male population under canvas, of surrounding them with vast quantities of military supplies, and of making spectacular announcements of what they are going to do somewhere, at some vague date always conveniently in the future. Admiral Fisher's definition of war implies that those men and supplies must be employed in VIOLENCE!

President Roosevelt has never had any first hand experience with violence, aside from locking horns with the Republican Party and with the Economic Royalists. General Marshall has had no experience in violence for twenty-five years; and measured in terms of the revolutionary changes in warfare during the past quarter of a century, his fighting experience is very remote indeed.

Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt, with all due respect for their exceptional ability in their respective fields, are a long way from measuring up to the requirements of Minister of Defense and a Commander-in-Chief in such a war as the one now on our hands.

In the gravest crisis of this generation, when the entire normal process of living is being revolutionized at home, there is more than any living man can perform in supervising the pressing problems of civilian government.

When in addition to assuming the overpowering task of general government Churchill and Roosevelt actually undertake the direction of military and naval policy and strategy the results which are apparent on five continents and seven seas speak more eloquently for themselves than I could describe them.

While I have little knowledge of naval affairs I have no doubt that there are officers in the American and British navies, in their forties and fifties, who could consolidate the fleets, organize their striking power and direct it effectively. The United States is the world's second naval power—and that power should be UTILIZED at sea, and not on PAPER!

In the army, it is a different question. We definitely know into whose hands the direction of the English speaking armies should be entrusted. General Wavell and General MacArthur. Those two general officers could take the British and American armies, reorganize them, revitalize them and weld them into powerful aggressive task forces capable of doing a little VIOLENCE when violence would count most heavily against our enemies.

Wavell and MacArthur are hard working soldiers whose entire careers have been devoted to ACTION. They have recent experience in modern combat technique and strategy. They have not been sitting around the officers' clubs and in the quiet shade of the War Department for the last twenty-five years!

Something is desperately needed to transform the armies of the Red, White and Blue from Boy Scout camps to fighting units on the scene of action. That thing is the appointment of soldiers who know that "War is the essence of violence; and moderation in war is imbecility!" There are two such soldiers in the Anglo-Saxon world. They are the gallant, hard fighting, experienced and willing soldiers—General MacArthur and General Wavell!

A STATESMAN for Senator
Vote for
ROSS A. COLLINS

Make him your United States Senator on Aug. 25 and give him the power to represent YOU in the Senate where he can do even better work than he has done in the House in convincing Army authorities that we must have proper equipment to protect our boys. Ross Collins is known as the outstanding military expert in Congress. Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen wrote of him in The Washington Merry-Go-Round: "During 20 somnolent years after the World War, when the U. S. Army was unworried over modern military trends which were to make Europe a shambles, the chief thorn in its side was Congressman Ross Collins from Mississippi who refused to let it sleep." Ross Collins has not been asleep in Congress. He has been doing things. Many people call on him as a Congressman to get things done that their Senators cannot do for them. Make Collins your United States Senator and give him a chance to put his ideas into effect, thus giving to our sons in the service effective and armored weapons.

READ WHAT THE CHIEF OF THE U. S. ARMY AIR CORPS HAD TO SAY

"Dear Collins: You brought into being the Flying Fortress with its crew of 8 or 10.

H. H. Arnold, Major General,
Air Corps Chief of the Air Corps."

* * * * *

If sufficient Flying Fortresses had been stationed at Pearl Harbor that battle would have been fatal to the Japs at the start and they would not have been able to gain a foothold in the Pacific. Ross Collins put the Flying Fortress in the Army, according to Gen. Arnold. With enough Flying Fortresses we will win this war. Put men like Collins on guard. The quicker we retire the sleepers and put the wide awake experienced legislators on duty the quicker this war will be won. Vote for Collins and the protection of your sons and your country. Vote for a statesman.

Ross Collins knows how and does things. Put him in the Senate where he can carry on the great work he has started.

GUEST HONORED

Miss Imogene Geeslin entertained in honor of her friend, Miss Evelyn King, house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Staten on two occasions this week.

On Monday evening, dinner guests at the lovely home of Miss Geeslin were Miss King and Mr. Ray Brown and Mr. Hirrel Farrell.

On Tuesday morning Miss Geeslin entertained a group of girls at her home at 10:30. Delicious sandwiches, canapes, olives, pickles and sweets with Coca-Cola were served most charmingly by the hostess, assisted by her mother. Miss King was the honoree at this lovely affair also.

On Friday Miss Geeslin and Miss King are to go to Water Valley for a visit together in the King home there.

Rev. Mr. Glen E. Wiley, pastor of the First Baptist Church, is holding a revival meeting at Crenshaw this week. He held a meeting at Coffeeville last week. Mr. Prince, ministerial student at Mississippi College will preach at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Deacwyler and two sons, C. L. Jr., and Joe, of Jacksonville, Fla. visited their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Davis and family last week.

Sgt. Ralph Davis, of Camp Bowie, Texas, is spending the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Davis and family at Tie Plant. Ralph has transferred to the Air Corps.

Joe Neely, Jr., of Birmingham, spent Sunday and Monday here with his parents.

Miss Ann Duncan is attending Draughton Business College in Memphis now, having left on Monday of last week.

Ben T. Terry Celebrates His Fifteenth Anniversary With Mississippi Power & Light Co.

Ben T. Terry (right) receives his 15-year service pin from P. T. LaGrone, manager of Mississippi Power & Light Company's Northwestern Division.

Ben T. Terry, manager at Greenwood for Mississippi Power & Light Company, recently celebrated his fifteenth anniversary of service with the utility.

He was employed by the Mississippi Delta Power and Light Company February 1, 1927. His first work was the handling of right-of-way and claims on 110 KV line from Cleveland, Mississippi to Memphis, Tennessee and 110 KV line Grenada to Greenwood, 110 KV line Greenwood to Durant and the following 13 KV lines — Greenwood to Clarksdale; Greenwood to Holcomb; Greenwood to Carrollton; Greenwood to Tchula. He was transferred to Mississippi Power & Light Company in the fall of 1928 and was afterwards made assistant to Mr. H. B. McGehee, manager of the Miss. Power & Light Company at Greenwood. Mr. McGehee was transferred to Clarksdale and Mr. Terry was made manager on January 1, 1929 of the Ice Factory, Ice Cream Factory, and electric properties in Greenwood territory. In the summer of 1930 he was selected to handle and secure natural gas franchise in Greenwood and saw gas turned into the city in October, 1930. Mr. Terry worked on securing new customers and went through the depression when all banks closed in 1931 and again on account of the flood in the winter of 1932. From 1929 to 1933 he secured franchises from a number of counties; also appeared before Northern Levee Board on numerous occasions. Mr. Terry has been serving as manager of Greenwood properties for 13 years.

Ben Terry has always taken a prominent part in civic affairs. He has served as President of the Rotary Club, is a member of the Greenwood Chamber of Commerce, Masonic Lodge, Elks Club and Tippoh Hunting and Fishing Club, is one of three who have charge of Civilian Defense in Leflore County and Greenwood. He was one of six who organized and built the Greenwood Country Club, serving as the first Secretary and Treasurer of the club. He is a devout member of the Methodist Church, having been a life-long member of the Greenwood Methodist Church.

APPRECIATES GCW

Cleveland, Miss., July 6, 1942

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Whitaker:

At last I've started receiving the GCW which you have been sending. I was told by my aunt, (Miss Orene Johnson) that you are giving me a six months' subscription as a graduation gift. I know of nothing I'd rather have, and I wish to express my sincere appreciation for your kindness.

I look forward with eagerness to each week-end when I will receive another copy of the paper which gives such an enjoyable account of the happenings of Grenada people.

You have my admiration along with the numerous others for the good work you are doing there.

Thanking you again, I am,

Sincerely,

Ima Johnson.

CELEBRATES THIRD BIRTHDAY

Billy Howard Wallace, son of Mr and Mrs. Brooks Wallace, celebrated his third birthday Wednesday, July 8, at his home at Wakefield, near Independence, with a party to which eighteen of his little friends and their mothers came. This happy occasion was held on the lawn of the Wallace home where bucket ball, lost key and other intersting games were played. Delicious home made cake and cream were served, after which the young fellows fished for favors and admired Billy's pretty and useful gifts. Mrs. Wallace was assisted in entertaining the young fellows by Mrs. Claude Noble Brooks, and Mrs. Howard Rose, of Grenada.

Billy is the adorable little grandson of Mr. anud Mrs. W. L. Wallace, of Independance and grandson of Mr. J. M. Rose, of Grenada.—Contributed.

New Man At Lockett's

Mr. Clarence Holloman has recently associated himself with the Lockett Lumber Company.

He is an experienced lumberman and has been associated with the Lexington Lumber Co. for a number of years.

Town Hall

Henderson, Rev. W. L. Robinson, and Rev. Pharr are active members of the Executive Board. Mrs. F. T. Gerard is chairman of United Volunteer Service. Mrs. L. D. Boone, USO secretary and NCCS chairman, Mrs. W. W. Whitaker is cooperating chairman for negro participatoin in the local USO organization, also chairmany of the Publicity Committee. The Citizens Committee includs Homer Williams, of Rotary Club, Joel Batson, Lions Club, David Dullard C. of C. William Wright, American Legion, Mrs. Rogers Pleasants, Music Club, Mrs. C. C. Cathey, Fortnightly Club, Mrs. H. L. Hineycutt, Twentieth Century Club, Mrs. A. L. Trotman B. and P. W. Mrs. Cullen American Legion Auxiliary: Mrs. C. C. Penn, Civic League, Mrs. Glen Thomason, Garden Club, Mrs. Richardson, P. T. A. Mrs. Fannie Morrison, U. D. C.; H. B. Caldwell, I. C. Boosters and Mrs. H. Graves, Band Boosters.

The above is written that we might again review the USO as organized in Grenada. Some committeemen may have been changed or omitted in this hastily written article.

We have a negro organization now. Margurete Rayford, wife of Dr. Rayford is chairman and Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, for many years interested in work among negroes of the town and county, is cooperating chairman.

It is good to know that when our negro draftees leave this week for Camp Shelby, the USO negro members will give each man a box lunch and cigarettes and be on hand to bid them good bye.

The United Service Organiaztion is ready to cooperate with us, and the men and women who are to serve as directors of soldiers recreation will be paid with money from the USO National treasury and not from the WPA pay roll. The USO directors are not given instructions in Greenwood and Jackson as the WPA directors would be but must live up to the highest of nationally accepted standards as approved by the local USO board who work hand in hand with them seven days a week. The following is of interest, so read it:

The USO at Biloxi, as well as at Hattiesburg is wonderful. They have placards in the Railroad and Bus stations which read thus.

Club House - Sports - Art Studio for you. If you are a girl defense worker, a soldier's wife, a stranger in town, a soldier, sailor or aviator call Mrs. Blank, director of USO. In hotels cards are distributed to men in the service and these cards entitles bearer tothe privileges of USO away from home. Some of the privileges are writing room (free stationery) reading room, dances as announced, vaudeville as announced, snack counter, home made cookie jar, shuffle board, ping pong, piano, radio, victrola and card tables.

The War Departtment requested USO to go into maneuver areas involving detachments as large as 400,000 troops and assist the men located near overcrowded small towns. USO brought the men camp shows through the 24 professional road companies. They brought Mobile units with fresh cigarettes, magazines, candy, etc. The USO was requested by the war department to aid millions of troops at Christmas and the U. S. O. filled that request so graciously that the boys will never forget.

The U. S. O. standards are high. The men and women workers are all high class educated and trained people. They are men and women who will not only look after the comfort and needs of our men in camp but will inspire and strengthen them spiritually. Local people working with U. S. O. gladly give their time and money and services free.

Here's what enlisted men say for themselves. "We in the army are like other normal people: we also miss our loved ones, when we're eight hundred miles from home. To walk through the U. S. O. front door and be welcomed as into a friends house gives one a feeling of warmth in a cold world." Others say "U. S. O. is the real U. S. A." "Its the Corner Drug Store of the Army". "When you're S. O. S. you stop at the U. S. O." "The U. S. O. is awful easy on the bank roll and I have more fun there than on an ordinary liberty." "Its the first break we've had since we've been in the army," and so on.

"All parents of soldiers appreciate U. S. O."

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

Oh, well, if the wimmen did not have the USO and the WPA to quarrel about, they would have something else.

We note that New Orleans is causing the evacuation of a lot of ladies of the evening. Maybe that's where some of our new comes came from. Some of them look sorter Creolish

George Hey Fox just could not get along without the GCW any longer, so pitched in two dollars which helped out on a hot afternoon with the week's washing.

Camp McCain

struction as is to be seen in the barrack area. Concrete latrines, and barracks that almost collapse under their own weight!!

I hesitate to write the above, yet it is absolutely true and everybody in the camp area knows it is true. The people generally should know the results of long-distance interference from desk-engineers in the War Department in Washington, for that is partially where the fault lies. The other contributatory cause, in my opinion, is paying carpenters wages to almost anyone who knows which end of the nail to hit with which end of the hammer, and thus increasing the cost (and reducing the stability) of the structures mightily.

Uncle Sam evidently told Chas T. Main something like the hauling contractor told his driver, "Pick up this load, carry it to Memphis, unload it and be back here in Grenada in four hours BUT LEAVE VERY, VERY CAREFULLY". Uncle Sam evidently told Main, "Make my gallant soldiers a fine place to stay, make it in a hurry, BUT KEEP THE COSTS DOWN and PAY WOOD BUTCHERS ONE DOLLAR AN HOUR AND FIELD HANDS FORTY CENTS AN HOUR. But make it 'good', for NOTHING is too good for my brave men at arms".

No wonder Democracy is threatened with collapse!

Tie Plant Revival In Progress

Rev. J. V. Stewart is assisting Rev. A. W. Bailey in the revival at the Tie Plant Methodist Church this week.

Everyone is enjoying his splendid and helpful sermons. Let's pray that great service may come from these sermons. Rev. Stewart has announced a "Family Night" service for Thursday nights. At the beginning of this service a "Service Flag will be hung in our church honoring our young men who have gone into the service of our country." We urge you to come to this great service as well as other splendid services to be held.

Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock a children's service led by Mrs. A. W. Bailey. (The fine little Christian lady, a great worker for saving souls for Christ) was held at the Trailer Camp with nine of Tie Plant children and 13 of the line camp boys and girls taking part. The mothers and children showed great interest, enjoyment and appreciation. Another service will be held there Thursday afternoon at four o'clock. Everyone is invited to attend this service and the rest of the services at 8:30 p. m. at church and also morning services at church. Contributed.

Vacancy On City Council

Mr. Harry Burkley, who recentlty moved his residence from the city to a suburban home on No. 7 west of town, resigned from the City Council Monday night. He has served since May 1940, and was a member of the Election for successor called for July 31.

Circuit Court will convene on the fourth Monday in July. Folks used to leave town when the grand jury met to avert telling a lie. Now they never leave town, just swear lies with clear consciences.

Meow!! Scat!! The wimmen are "at" it again.

If you could just get the Allies to fight the Axis with as much ferocity as the wimmen fight each other, the war would be crowned with victory for the Allies before Christmas.

Meow!! Scat!! Scat!!

It looks like most of our readers want me to be the society editor instead of the old lady since they read the grand sassiety doings in last week's issue.

Two medical officers of the U. S. Army have arrived on the scene in Grenada. If they make sufficient investigation, they can find pest holes in Grenada that would make the Black Hole of Calcutta by comparison look and smell like a houri's dream of paradise.

Aint they sweet.

I do not care if Eastlund actually mailed out those letters under O'Daniel's frank. I would not vote for a dumb one now serving in Washington. They have done far worse—they have permitted this rich nation to get into such shape that the Japanese push around like Jes Willard would push Dempsey.

Tuesday was the hottest, most hell a day so far this year.

Uncle Irovine shared his pay check with us, not equally, but let us have a dollar of it.

Wonder if they have any printing done at the camp?

If a soldier is out after taps at Camp McCain, he can take his pocket knife, pry off one of those laths and slip in thru the crack between the wall boards.

Lay your bets on the WPA-USO bout now in the first round. I'll bet on the USO.

Wonder who is going to run for alderman from West Ward. That $25 per month looks sorter attractive to me.

Riley Dunn made a menetary visit to our emporium today.

Our old friend, Brother Ward, from Beat Five, was in town Tuesday.

Gossip hath it that Uncle Sam is going to call one of our best moon players real soon.

Roy Donk has about decided to postpone his ad until after the war.

Move over Clarks, and make room for a new one, J. G. Clark, of Big Creek, who is welcomed.

Brother Lancaster was a vistor in Grenada recently. He has been staying in Louisiana.

Mr. W. K. Huffington is not enjoying his vacation, as he acts like a fish out of water. He is like the postman who takes his vacation walking over his route.

William Joiner has got good enough that he sometimes makes the ball he shoots at.

Well, we have a new candidate, Mr. W. T. Brown, of Pontotoc. I understand he is a banker.

Sister R. H. Foster has been added to our mailing list. Thus the GCW mailing list grows.

We are not going to mail out any subscription notices until we can catch a cool day, but PLEASE look at the date by your name, and YOU do not need a statement. You get one each and every week.

Graves has about got used to his new teeth.

The supervisors are asking that YOU look at your revised assessment and, if dissatisfied, appear before the board and make protest on the first Monday in August or, otherwise, forever hold your peace.

The sheriff's force is going to enforce the law which provides that cars and trucks have only a month's grace in this state. After that the owner must buy a Mississippi tag. Better take notice and save damages.

Grenada county should get ready to make assessments of all the property that will be at the camp site on January 1, 1943 and collect the taxes on it. The contractors are making rich hauls. Why should Grenada county overlook its legitimate right to levy taxes upon property within the county on the governing date, January 1. It will be gone before the next January 1.

BROWN FOR CONGRESS

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE FOURTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT:

In making announcement of my candidacy for Congressman of the Fourth District of Mississippi, please permit me to say to you that prior to this time my political ambitions have been entirely satisfied with giving assistance and advice on business legislation when called on to do so by our lawmakers.

My being a business man, pleasantly, profitably, and permanently situated seems to have been the incentive that invoked many of my friends and acquaintances to insist upon my making this race. I was born and reared on a farm near Sherman. I taught school a few years during my early manhood and for the past thirty years, I have been at the head of the Bank of Sherman. I am a taxpayer in two of the counties of this district, Pontotoc in the northern part and Winston in the southern part.

For a number of years I have made an intensive study of political, financial, industrial, and social economics. I hold as fundamental that the right to possess is the incentive to produce, that production must be abundant in order that the standard of living may be adequate and that this right and privilege must be extended to all mankind. Likewise, I hold that taxation must be reasonable or we kill the goose that lays the golden egg.

I have two sons in the U. S. Army, one in Aviation and the other in the Field Artillery and if I were of combat age, I would don a uniform and take up arms along beside them and your boys; but as I cannot, I am sure that they and their buddies would like to have their Dad "A War Dad" in Congress. These two sons of mine were born during the last world war, and while we were ringing the church bells and celebrating the Armistice I told the people that I thanked God that our boys would never have to be sacrificed in a war as I was sure that we would have a hundred years of peace, but Congress fumbled the job and we are in war again and my sons and your sons are offering their lives as a sacrifice on the altar built by the folly of the nations. I shall lend my every effort both day and night for the successful termination of this conflict and for a just and righteous peace. No other can survive. I am in favor of an International Court backed up by an international Army, Navy and Air Force to maintain justice between nations and that nations shall be forced to settle their differences in this court. We must not have any more wars. There may be men today that would like to write their names across the pages of history but I have no ambition to climb the dizzy heights of fame or fortune. Bury me in a potter's field and leave my grave unmarked but give me a country in which we may live in peace.

If you elect me your Congressman, I will give my untiring efforts towards the conducting of the nation's business in a businesslike way. If you feel that we need a few businessmen in Congress I shall appreciate your vote and influence. I appeal to you mothers and fathers, brothers and sisters, wives and sweethearts of these boys in uniforms to join hands with me in this campaign, forgetting not that August 25 is the day of the election.

Sincerely,

W. T. BROWN.

Success Factors For Livestock

Practices Now Have Proven Their Value

By P. E. JOHNSTON

(Department of Agriculture Economics, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.)

Here are some 36 "success" factors by means of which farmers can gear up their livestock production for wartime needs.

All the practices have proved their worth in farm account records kept by farmers in co-operation with this college.

BREEDING: (1) Flush at breeding time, (2) reduce feed of sows at weaning time and (3) use proper type breeding stock and select individuals (mark litters and select from best and sort gilts from feeding herd before they get too fat for proper use).

FEEDING: (1) Feed proper rations to sows during gestation period, (2) provide plenty of pasture, (3) put sows and pigs on self feeder, (4) feed balanced rations to pigs and (5) provide plenty of fresh water.

Most Important.

SANITATION: (Eighteen of 24 farmers interviewed stated that sanitation was most important factor of all.) (1) Clean houses, (2) clean sows and (3) clean pastures.

MARKETING: (1) Sell spring and fall pigs when prices are normally highest (August - September and March-April) and (2) deviate from normal if the outlook shows clearly that an abnormal situation prevails at the time.

TIMELINESS: To conserve labor and to increase the production of pork, (1) breed sows to farrow at desired time, (2) have equipment ready and guard against rapid changes in temperature, (3) castrate before pigs are four weeks of age, (4) vaccinate at five to six weeks, (5) wean at eight weeks and (6) finish at six months of age, the usual time period.

Farm Hazards

Strangely, agriculture is the most hazardous American industry, with the farm home contributing largely to this amazing total of accidents. Here are some safety suggestions:

Sharp-edged tools be kept away from play places.

Stairways with more than three steps be equipped with hand-rails.

Free use of both hands not to be sacrificed because of heavy load to carry.

And stairways be kept clear of toys, tools, and boxes. The annual cost of farm and rural fires is $200,000,000. Then, too, besides this property damage, 3,500 lives are lost in these fires.

To combat this menace:

Every open fireplace be equipped with a screen.

Kettles, pails, and tubs of hot liquids be kept off the floor.

House dry cleaning be done out-of-doors.

Matches be kept away from children.

And saucepan handles be kept away from the edges of stoves and tables.

Cuts, bruises, and infections should never be regarded as minor, as people have died as a result of a scratch becoming infected.

Lamb Fattening Tests

In an effort to help sheepmen find ways to fatten lambs by adding protein to rations, the Cornell university agricultural experiment station tested seven "protein supplements" on lambs. Each lamb received, in addition to the particular protein-rich feed tested, a standard ration of shelled corn, corn silage, ground limestone and salt.

The lambs fed linseed meal in the ration had better appetites than did those fed the other supplements, which included soybean oil meal, whole soybeans, corn gluten meal, distillers' corn dried grain, brewers' dried grains, and urea.

Averaging the two experiments, the feeding value was slightly the highest for whole soybeans, followed by soybean oil meal, corn gluten meal, and linseed meal.

Wheat Poultry Ration

Bushel for bushel, wheat is the cheapest ingredient in the poultry ration today and more and more poultrymen are feeding wheat.

The reason wheat is so cheap at the present time is that the U. S. department of agriculture is putting about 100 million bushels of wheat on the market. This was done to help livestock, dairy, and poultry producers use this wheat for feed and attain Food for Freedom production goals.

CAIN AND ABEL: A CONTRAST

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 4:1-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous.—Hebrews 11:4.

The weed of sin is fast growing, and brings forth bitter fruit. The disobedience of Adam and Eve resulted in their being put forth from the garden, but that judgment did not terminate the awful plague of sin. We see it in this lesson showing forth in their son, as it has in all the sons of Adam down through the centuries.

It is a dark picture and one which would discourage us did we not know that redemption has been wrought out by "the second man, the Lord from heaven" (I Cor. 15: 47).

We have here two sons of Adam with their differing personalities, a clash and the first murder, and then one man, a vagabond on the face of the earth.

I. Two Sons (vv. 1-7).

The birth of a child is always an exciting occasion, and one can readily imagine what it must have meant when the first boy ever to be born put in his appearance. What joy, what concern for his welfare, what plans for the future! And then, what disappointment and sorrow!

But before speaking of that, let us observe how he and his brother differed in their interests and personalities. It is a surprising thing how completely different two sons in the same family can be.

Abel chose the work of a shepherd, much honored in the early history of man. Cain became a tiller of the soil, which with the passage of time has come to be more important than the other.

They also had a different viewpoint on worship. Cain was a religious man. He apparently was the first to worship, but he came in the spirit of one who recognized God only as his Creator, the One worthy of his homage. Abel came also with a gift, but his attitude was quite different. His offering spoke of sacrifice, the need of a covering for sin (cf. Gen. 3:21). It was more than homage, it was a plea for forgiveness.

The Lord's acceptance of Abel's sacrifice made Cain angry (v. 5). Here again he differed from Abel, for there was no angry response on his part. Abel had recognized God's desire in worship. Cain not only failed to do so, but rejected God's instruction and His plea (vv. 6, 7).

Jealousy led to anger, and anger (as it so often does) led to

II. Murder (vv. 8, 9).

Instead of repentance and correction, the anger of Cain carried him to the awful conclusion of hatred, the taking of life. We tend to think of murder as a crime which only a desperately wicked man would commit. We hardly think of the "respectable" little sin of envy as being the root of murder, but it is, often and sometimes very quickly.

Actually there is no little sin, for it is the genius of sin to grow, to increase, to go step by step, yes, often by leaps and bounds, to its horrible fruition. "The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it?" (Jer. 17:9). Why trust it?

The deceitfulness of Cain's heart is shown by the callous evasiveness of his reply to God concerning his murdered brother. His sin brought God's question. It always does. Do not assume that you can hide from Him. It has been suggested that committing sin is like touching a burglar alarm—the bell rings, and one must answer for his act.

"Am I my brother's keeper?" is the perfect expression of the selfish and indifferent attitude of the world. Human beings are regarded as simply those to be exploited, beings upon whom they may prey. For example: Just to make money, men are willing to destroy a fellow man with intoxicating liquor, or break down his decency and morality by selling him indecent books or magazines.

Murder having taken one of the two sons, we find that the remaining one is just

III. A Vagabond (vv. 10-15).

Judgment for sin made Cain a wanderer and a fugitive. Never would he be able to get away from the cry of his brother's blood (v. 10). No wonder he said he could not bear it. But notice that his cry was not one of repentance or contrition, but only of fear, of retribution.

So God shows mercy, forbidding the judgment of men upon Cain. Vengeance belongs to God, and in this first murder He reserved judgment to Himself. Later He put upon man the responsibility of judging and punishing murder by death (Gen. 9:6), but here He put His protecting hand on Cain.

Yet, to be a fugitive, with no real abiding place on earth, and every man's hand against him, was indeed a heavy punishment. One could have wished that it had brought repentance, but it did not. May none of us go the way of Cain.

Cherry Blossom Place

By IRENE DAVIDSON
(McClure Syndicate—WNU Features.)

"TSCHAIKOWWSKH!"—or however you spell a sneeze!

Lynn dug her hot little face into the damp and doubtful relief of a perfumed pillow. It was Apple Leaves perfume; she had bought the bottle, "By Blasco, Perfumer," at the five-and-ten the day before. If one had to be miserable, one might as well do it to music—or perfume, as it was in this instance.

Besides—Lynn had just missed the apple blossoms when she left home. Abington, down in Arkansas, had about eighteen hundred inhabitants and about eighteen million apple trees, scattered over the hills. At least it looked that way, in apple blossom time.

"Tschaikowwwskh! TschaikowwwSKH!"

If he sneezed one more time she'd throw shoes at the wall . . . . she'd knock on it with that old andiron.

This was the second day he'd been sneezing. Didn't he TAKE anything for his sneeze? How could she have the flu—or whatever this was—in peace, with that racking explosion in the next room every ten minutes?

Tears of sheer nervousness got rubbed into the Apple Leaves pillow. A nice way to land in Washington, anyway! Homesick already, and physically sick, too, on top of that. Just how sick she was afraid to speculate. But it was funny—feeling this way; so sort of jazzed up and unsteady.

Let's see—she was supposed to start work on the fifteenth; this was the ninth. She had figured, back there in Abington, on giving herself a week to see Washington. She wanted to see the Cheery Blossom place—like the picture—Lynn jerked herself up on the pillow. Her mind was certainly wandering if the Cherry Blossom place was the first thing that came into her mind in the matter of seeing Washington!

She pulled the light string determinedly, stepped down into the blue slippers and walked unsteadily to the rocking chair by the window.

Could it be possible she'd fought the flu all winter to fall a victim to it at this most inopportune moment? Surely, the gods who had sorted her own papers from among those certain thousands in the department of the interior and had directed the letter-of-adventure that notified Lynn Wheeling, Abington, Arkansas, that a job waited her in the Capital City, weren't going to leave her flat, like this? What would they do (in that mysterious department) if she should fail to report for duty on the fifteenth?

"Tschaikkowwwskh!"

Mother of ! ! ! Serene little Lynn felt suddenly wild. Flu is one thing—but sneezing! Any kind of pills will stop sneezing—for awhile anyway. Her eyes fell on the white box on her table, and widened. She reached for it with one movement, and with a continuation of the same movement slipped to the door, then to the door next to her own, and knocked.

It was a minute before the knock was answered, by a slightly disheveled figure in a brown dressing gown. Lynn held out the white box.

"It will stop the sneezing," she said simply. And then the world went gently dark.

Ten minutes later when she opened her eyes they traveled up a length of brown dressing-gown to a pair of puzzled, but nice blue eyes. She remembered perfectly what had happened, and smiled reassuringly.

"I'm all right, now," she heard herself saying. And then her voice kept right on; she couldn't seem to stop it. "I gave myself a week to see Washington, you see, and now I'm afraid I'm going to have the flu. I wanted to see the Cherry Blossom place. Over there—by the Potomac. We have apple blossoms at home, you know—"

Another voice cut through, gentle, yet a commanding sort of voice. "In the name of the great god Pan—you must come from the apple country too! Don't worry—I'll get a doctor—and get in touch with your department. Go to sleep, can't you—or something—while I get busy. You're a sick woman, child!"

• • •

Two weeks later John Winton maneuvered his car along a beautiful driveway so that the Cherry Blossom place fell like a drift of snow out of fairyland directly in front of them.

Lynn gasped, and there was a sudden film of homesick tears in her eyes as they met his. "Honestly, John, I don't know whether I can stand it or not!"

Then they looked in silence a minute. John laughed.

"And maybe you think I didn't know how you felt that day . . . Lord! It does seem like ages ago! But you weren't as bad as I was, Lynn! I'd never been out of Fayettesville in my life got all my training in correspondence schools. Gosh, but I was homesick for apple trees—and lonesome!

"Somehow—" the blue eyes looked straight into the hazel ones—"Somehow I don't seem to figure on being homesick or lonesome ever again, Lynn . . . Do—you?"

The girl from the apple country laughed softly. "Don't you remember what I said when I kept saying that afternoon, when I came to? 'I'm all right—now.' "

FAMOUS ALL-BRAN MUFFINS. EASY TO MAKE. DELICIOUS!

They really are the most delicious muffins that ever melted a pat of butter! Made with crisp, toasted shreds of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, they have a texture and flavor that have made them famous all over America.

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN MUFFINS

2 tablespoons shortening
¼ cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup All-Bran
¾ cup milk
1 cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
2½ teaspoons baking powder

Cream shortening and sugar; add egg and beat well. Stir in All-Bran and milk; let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 6 large muffins, 3 inches in diameter, or 12 small muffins, 2¼ inches in diameter.

Garden Afloat

Every spring, from 3,000 to 7,000 huge rafts of logs are floated down the Yalu river, which forms the boundary between Manchuria and Korea. So they will be well fed during the journey that takes many weeks, the Chinese who handle these rafts usually carry along a patch of earth and raise a variety of vegetables, says Collier's.

The new steel helmet just adopted by the Army is no longer called a "tin hat." It's a "head bucket" and when you see one you'll know why. Our soldiers have changed much of their slang since the last war, but not their preference for Camel Cigarettes. Now—as then—Camels are the favorite. They're the favorite cigarette with men in the Navy, Marines and Coast Guard as well, according to actual sales records from service men's stores. If you want to be sure of your gift to friends or relatives in the service being well received, stop in at your local dealer's and send a carton of Camels.—Adv.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good heath is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Smartly Styled Washables Are Made to Wear Long and Often

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THERE is a great to-do being made about the "soap and water" look for summer. Because we want to look immaculate and feel cool, because we've found that only washables can give us that wonderful, fresh-from-the-laundry cleanness, we are growing more and more to appreciate how completely washables attain to our ideals of perfect materials for perfect summer days. This summer we'll wear washables all day, every day and for late in the night.

This season, more than ever before, we are discovering that there can be and is true aristocracy and a wealth of possibilities in sterling quality-kind linens, piques and other of the myriads of lovely weaves we've hitherto taken for granted. And now that the women of America have been led by designers and style creators to look upon washables as fabrics of beauty and a joy forever we are yielding utterly to their lure this season.

Women who insist on being beautifully dressed no matter how busy their lives may be will appreciate at first glance the appeal of fine artistry and deft workmanship reflected in the three dresses illustrated above. They live up to the tradition of the designer who created them and who is noted for exquisitely simple styling and unusual detail.

Among fine wash weaves Moygashel linen has ever been noted for its superior look, feel and wear. Happily this linen is still being imported from the North of Ireland. The demure little suit dress shown to the left in the above picture is just about as pretty and cool for a summer afternoon as ever a dress might be. This beautifully cut original has a brief peplumed jacket and a graceful unpressed pleated skirt. Exquisite Venise lace borders the jacket and cuffs. Three flower buttons clear almost to transparency blossom down the front. It's lovely and feminine as any one could wish, charming and choice enough for any young woman of faultless taste to wear in the most select environs. Practical, too, for it washes like the proverbial "hanky."

Simple line is the important detail which makes the adorable dress centered in the picture. It's one of those classics of sophisticated simplicity to live in and love all summer long. Of soft rayon shantung, with tiers of hand-turned scallops on the pockets and pearl-buttoned bodice, it has all the high class styling of the best in washable summertime fabric manipulation. Worn with a shady-brimmed hat, nothing could be cooler looking or feeling.

Stop, look, listen! In the dress to the right in the above group you are receiving advance notice of a fashion you'll see more of this fall and winter, that is, the use of rich embroidery on the slim-lined dress. It's of cool Moygashel linen. Made very simply, with a deep-throated neckline and soft front fullness its restrained simplicity the more keenly highlights the chalk-white embroidery on collar and pockets. Wear it proudly and often, for it washes well and is easy to keep fresh.

One of the favored washables is pique, birdseye pique, eyeleted pique, printed pique, or embroidered pique. With this immaculate-looking washable designers are performing wonders in the way of sports apparel, daytime costumes, jacket dresses and party frocks which are most intriguing. Pique takes beautifully to trimmings of Irish crochet lace, which is being used very effectively. Printed pique combined with plain injects a splurge of color attuned to this summer's mood.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Fringe-Printed

Smoothly cool, shape-holding and comfortable, rayon jersey is a popular summertime fabric. This striking and most charming New York creation is of deep green and white fringe-printed jersey. This season's prints are noted for versatility and originality in design, but of all prints brought out nothing more unusual in a print has been shown than the fringe effect as here illustrated. Smartly simple and style-right for informal town and country daytime functions is this gown, and it is a forerunner of a new movement in prints.

Herald Lavish Use Of Embroideries

All signs point to a lavish use of embroidery on fashions now on the way for fall. One of the present season's highlights is the trick of trimming a black frock with contrasting embroidery in chalk white.

There is intriguing originality expressed in the embroidery technique employed in advance modes, such as the flower motif placed at the waistline of a slim frock which simulates a huge corsage. The new one-piece wrapover dresses invite ingenious introduction of embroidery used variously in border effects or in splashes of bright hand stitching in effective placement of flower clusters.

Materials for exotic looking turbans are also embroidered, and 'tis said that belts, bags and gloves will be cunningly needle-worked with yarns and chenilles.

Milliners Do Wonders With a Little Organdy

While there is big news in handsome white straws bordered with flanges of white ribbon and in cunning little flower turbans and pique types both broad of brim and brimless, it is in the exquisite hats milliners are making of organdy and other diaphanous materials that the thrill of thrills is found. On the head they look as airy and lovely as drifts of snowy clouds on a summer day.

Favorite types have pleatings of the organdy encircling transparent white brims. Other white chapeaux are styled of gleaming white cellophane straw made with the intention of stressing their transparency.

UPHOLSTERY repair work is rather costly hand labor. However, if you can clear a corner where you may work on it a little at a time, it is easy to do. Use boxes or an old table to rest the piece on at a comfortable working height. Remove the outside covering first, keeping it whole to use as a pattern; then remove padding, springs and webbing, writing down everything you want to remember about how they were placed; also the amount of webbing used. When the last tack is out, re-web the bottom of the seat, as shown, with strong new webbing and a homemade stretcher. Use No. 4 tacks or regular webbing tacks, and a tack hammer.

Use True Solar Time

Millions of people, particularly the Mohammedans, still use true solar time instead of mean solar time, and consequently, their clocks and watches are correct, or agree with standard time, on only four days of the year—April 15, June 14, September 1 and December 24, says Collier's. The maximum difference between them occurs on November 2, when it amounts to 16 minutes and 21 seconds.

Speaking of snuff, wonder what happened to my fellow snuff dipper, King Rogers Fowler, of Sweatman, and his son Bidwell Adams Fowler. Bidwell is going to get the next legislature to change his name to Sennett Conner Fowler.

Private Grady Green has been transferred from Mobile to a next station in the Southwest.

No ceiling price schedule can be maintained unless the cost of labor is stabilized, for labor is an important element in the cost of anything.

Get Ed Underwood to tell you the one about Mussolini and Roosevelt and their respective methods of raising potential soldiers and nurses.

Banker Brown has entered the congressional race in this district. More trouble for long steeple.

It is as hot as seventy-seven hells but there is nothing to do about it, but hope for cool weather. Even the omnipotent Bilbo can do nothing about it.

VICTORY Hints

ONE OF THE items in the Consumer Pledge which millions of women are signing for Uncle Sam is "I Will Take Good Care Of The Things I Have". Pots and pans—cooking utensils of all kinds—are things you must have. To take good care of all kinds of cooking utensils don't let food burn or stick, and don't leave pans over heat without something in them.

Porcelain enamel
—Gives good service but should be treated with care. Remember that enamelware is a form of glass and avoid sudden changes in temperature and rough handling.
—If food sticks, soak the pan in warm water and if necessary polish with a fine scouring powder, then wash and rinse.

Aluminum
—You are lucky if you have a good supply on hand. Take care of it and it will last for years. Remove stains by scouring with a fine scouring powder or fine steel wool.
—Never use soda, lye, ammonia, or strong washes containing alkalis on aluminum.
—If the inside of utensils darkens when water or food containing iron or alkalies are boiled or cooked in them, it may be removed by boiling a mild acid solution such as vinegar or cream of tartar in water, or by cooking acid foods in the utensil.
—Store aluminum utensils uncovered.

Heat resistant glass
—Glassware does not really stain. If a film appears on the surface, remove it by scouring with a fine powder or steel wool.
—Avoid sudden changes in temperature.

Tin
—Never scour tin utensils to keep them bright as the tin coating is very thin, and if it is scratched off the iron is exposed and rusts easily. If food sticks or burns on, remove it by heating the pan for a few minutes in a solution of soda.
If tin utensils are stored for a long time, protect them from moisture and rust by rubbing with unsalted fat or oil.

Cast iron
—Remove food that is stuck or burned on with a fine scouring powder or steel wool.
—Avoid rust by drying utensils thoroughly.

When buying new utensils
—Remember to look for utensils with flat bottoms and straight sides since they heat more quickly and hold the heat longer.
Buy utensils with close-fitting lids to hold in the steam and retain vitamins.
Buy utensils that are the right size for the amount of food you need to cook.
—Keep your pots and pans shining to "take good care of them".

Release No. 17—Week of June 28

The Home Front

Lots of folks—both young and old—got itching feet when the War Manpower Commission announced war production will provide 20,000,000 jobs. Industry in the cities offer higher wages and the glamour of war work.

But that's only half the story... War work includes food production. WMC says we need 3,500,000 extra workers on the farm. WPB is getting war contracts for firms in small Southern towns now. And in the cities where wages are higher, living costs are higher, too.

There isn't room for people in Southern cities, and northern industrial centers are overloaded with population. WMC advises us to think twice before moving to the cities.

DENTISTS FEEL THE WAR

WPB orders have teeth in them, and this week a new order bit the dentists. A reduction in the size and type if their familiar drills was demanded by WPB. Officials called them "excavating lures."

WPB is encouraging beekeepers to produce more honey as a sugar substitute.

MOVIES SIMPLIFY SETS

Movie producers have told WPB they will cut down on the use of critical materials in making pictures.

Effective July 1, price ceiling cover services as well as goods. This includes shoe shines and laundries and repairs—all the services in connection with things, but not services connected with your person, like haircuts and doctor's bills. This says OPA, completes the system of price control which was begun May 11 to prevent the disasters of inflation.

WANTED—WRECKED AUTOS

If you have an old Jallopy that won't run, send it to the junkyard. It will be broken up and used to make fighting machines. Lots of folks are answering the call for old cars, and will be broken up and used to make auto graveyards are yielding twice as much scrap now as they did a year ago.

Owners and drivers of trucks will soon be asked to enlist in a "U. S. Truck Conservation Corps" which will be a home front move to break the transportation bottleneck.

Patents owned by Axis subjects are being seized by the U. S. Some of these cover oil refining processes, chemicals, and aircraft machinery.

WPB has recommended that peach ice cream be substituted for chocolate on a year round basis. Chocolate supplies are running low because it's all imported, and new methods of freezing make it possible to preserve the South's large peach crop.

The South has lagged behind California in canning its peaches, but this year, 24,000,000 cans will be put up in Dixie.

It probably won't be a drop in the gas bucket, but the Office of Defense Transportation has restricted short hauls by tank cars which will release thousands of the big tanks for long distance operations.

CUT COOKING

Saving rides by pre-arrangement to [illegible] the hitch-hikers thumb and [illegible] instead of giving the other fellow a lift. Saving rubber by re-soling gas, tires and tubes. They call it "car pooling" in the gas rationed area, but tires and moving auto parts are wearing out no matter where you live.

The government asks everyone to follow the good neighbor policy in making full use of his car. Remember there won't be any more cars and no new tires for civilians are in prospect in spite of wishful reports to the contrary.

SMALL BUSINESS

WPB has established a new section to help small producers and factories. Many firms that haven't become identified with the war effort are facing shut downs.

Beef and veal prices are subject to new price controls this week. Pork has has long been controlled.

Don't worry about the large scrap rubber piles you see in the junk yards. They aren't being hoarded; almost all are waiting their turn to be shipped to reclaiming plants.

TYPEWRITERS NEEDED

The army and navy need typewriters so badly that WPB asks everyone who can spare one to sell it to the government.

If you use a sewing machine, here's a tip. Get it in shape for the duration. Sewing machine factories have only two months more in which to manufacture spare parts.

Birth certificates are no longer required for jobs in war industries . . . Farmers may get extra sugar for harvest hands says OPA . . Soybeans are in demand; they're used as a substitute for scarce chemical products . . . That extra two-pound ration of sugar you get with stamp No. 7 is a bonus won for you by American shipping which braved Axis mines and subs to bring it in.

Are you entitled to wear a "target" lapel button? You are if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. It's your badge of patriotism.

Lost and found columns of Tokio newspapers are crowded these days. Every time an American buys a War Bond, the Japs lose face. Buy your 10% every pay day.

Men are dying for the Four Freedoms. The least we can do here at home is to buy War Bonds—10% for War Bonds, every pay day.

SELL what you don't need . . .

BUY what you do need . . . .
